The Vicar Writes...

May 2017

Dear Friends,

As I write this I'm sat in the vicarage surrounded by boxes. This week my husband Adrian and I started to move into the vicarage at Northend and we look forward to truly being part of the community. I'm delighted to say that we will be here at Dasset Magna for at least the next year. It's amazing that we are in May already, almost halfway through the year. The last few months have been very busy and so much has taken place, there has been very little time for me to stand and stare. It hardly seems any time at all since we were exchanging Easter greetings and some of us were processing through Fenny Compton lead by Alfie the donkey and Bishop Christopher on Palm Sunday. That reminds me that Jesus issued an invitation to his first followers: "Follow me." As followers of Jesus Christ today, he invites us to keep on following, to keep on growing in loving God and loving others. I wonder what that might mean for us today and how will we respond to that invitation?

Every blessing,

Rev'd Nicki
